

Loud music could scare local wildlife.

Lots of rubbish is often left behind.

Lots of pollution created by thousands of people travelling to the event.

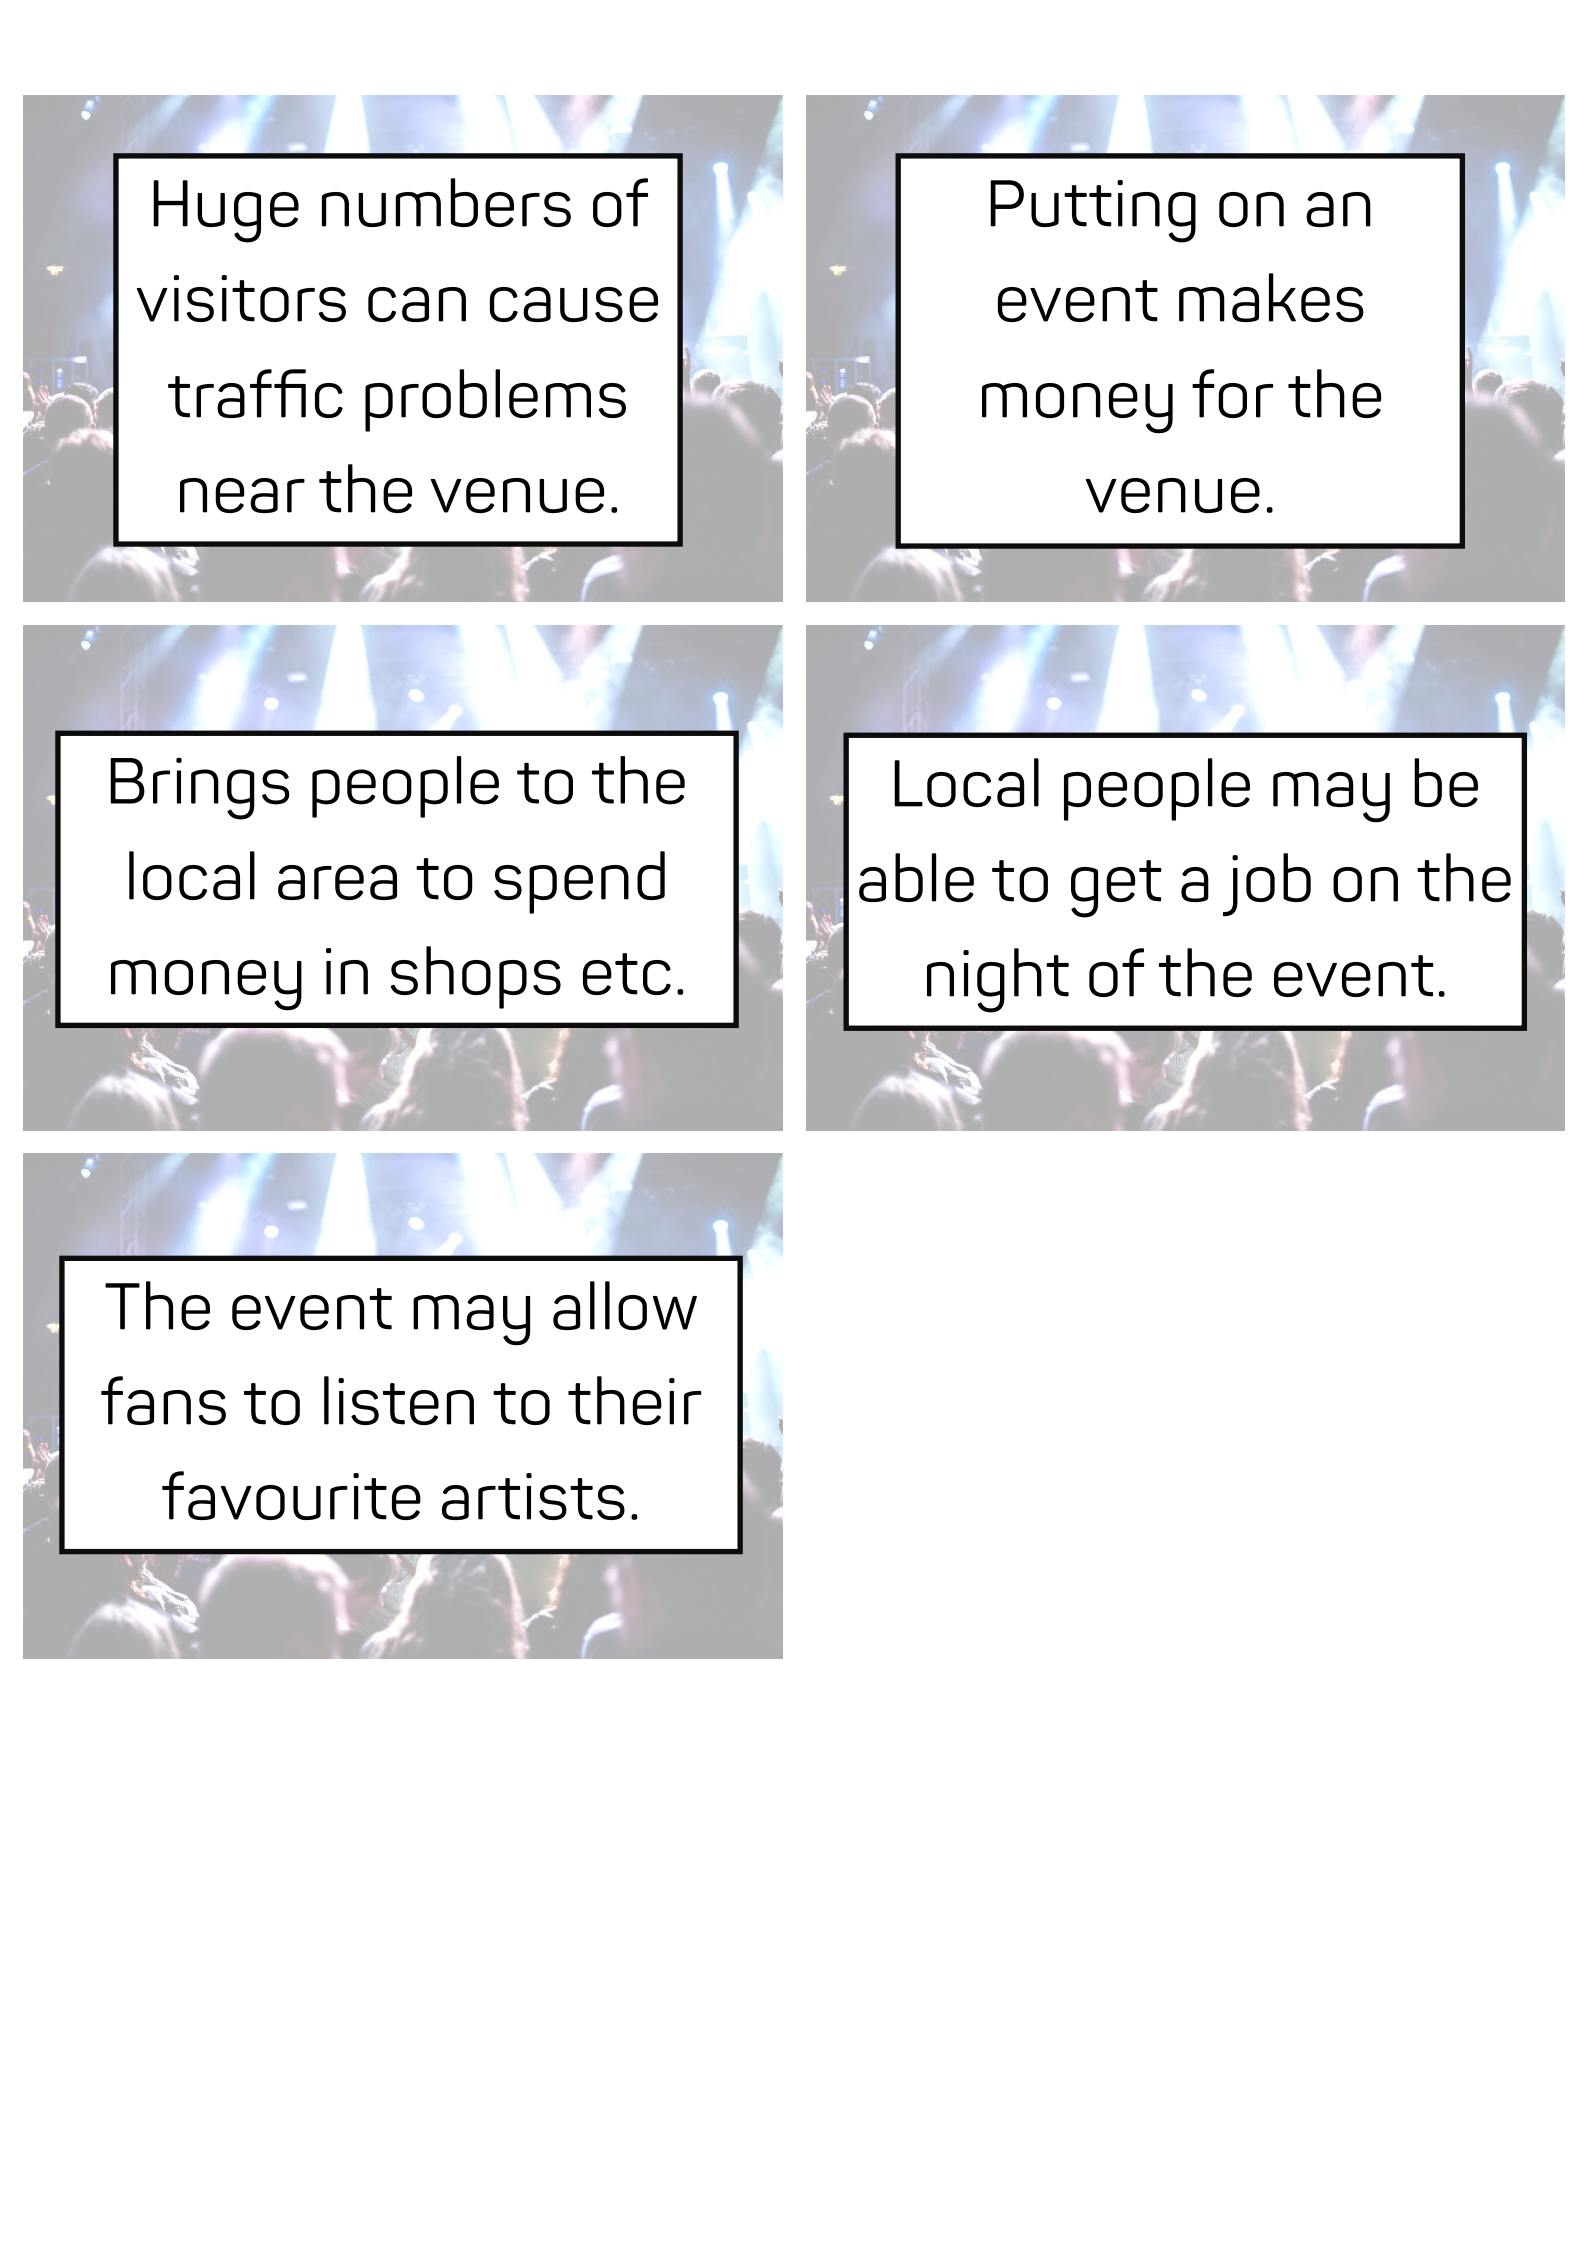

Events require huge amounts of electricity for sound systems, lights etc.

It costs a lot of money to hire a venue for the event.

It is expensive to hire staff for the event.

Big artists charge thousands of pounds per performance.

Loud music and late nights can upset people living near the venue.

Huge numbers of visitors can cause traffic problems near the venue.

Putting on an event makes money for the venue.

Brings people to the local area to spend money in shops etc.

Local people may be able to get a job on the night of the event.

The event may allow fans to listen to their favourite artists.